Here is the AIGC year-end report.

1. Officers: At the April meeting, we proposed a revised set of by-laws, which included a new definition of officers. Because of low turnout, we will be holding an e-mail election to ratify the new by-laws, but we elected officers consistent with the new by-laws. Elected were:

- President: Roger Grice (Lambda Chi Alpha)
- Vice President: Roger Mike (Delta Phi)
- Director: Ray Lutzky (Lambda Chi Alpha)
- Director: Ann Dodson (Pi Beta Phi)
- Director: Jonathan "Jerry" Witter (Sigma Alpha Epsilon)
- Director: Shannon Kelly (Pi Beta Phi)
- Director: Neil Eklund (FIJI)

This is the first election in quite a while to make major changes in the council’s officer structure. We are thankful to the leadership and dedication of the outgoing officers.

2. Meetings: The officers plan to meet in a blended face-to-face-meeting/conference-call every three weeks or so. We discussed the need to make our meeting schedule more in line with other RAA committees—we had not realized how out of synch we were. We will be holding officer meetings on the weekends of RAA meetings, and we invite RAA members to join us. We will be holding our full meetings at a time that allows for participation of chapter representatives—perhaps a combination of some meetings on “important” weekends when there is a lot of campus activity and weekends that do not have planned activities, so as to avoid the schedule conflicts that have plagued us in the past.

3. Campus Initiatives: Members of the AIGC work with DOSO, IFC, and Panhel this past year on the three campus initiatives proposed by DOSO in April 2006. The campus initiatives on alcohol policy and deferred/delayed rush are moving forward; alcohol policy will be presented to the administration very soon (if it has not been presented already); rush is still being discussed and progress is being made, but there was not the same sense of urgency as for the alcohol policy. The third of the three initial initiatives, live-in housing director, has been resolved (quietly): live-in housing directors are being considered on a case-by-case basis rather than as a blanket requirement. Houses will have a live-in director if they want one or if they are required to have one as a result of a disciplinary action.

4. Relationship Statement: A committee involving DOSO, AIGC, Panhel, and IFC has been formed and an initial review meeting was held. A major concern is that the Office of Fraternity and Sorority Affairs (formerly Office of Greek Life) does not have the staff nor the resources to handle all of the items outlined in the Relationship Statement. I will be meeting with Jessica Wickiewicz once the semester ends to discuss how her office and the AIGC can work together to best support the Greek system. It is apparent that her office is woefully under-funded to do the work that is needed if we are to truly be the Model of Excellence that is talked about. This will probably prove to be a major work effort for the upcoming year.

5. Support for Student Orientation: Representatives of AIGC were present at each SO session and will be present again this summer to work at the Greek Life resource table and to discuss fraternity and sorority life with parents and students. We have had a steady stream of visitors at the table during each session. We also participated with DOSO, IFC, and Panhel and a presentation/discussion with parents and students in one of the DCC lecture halls.

6. Greek-Life Orientation (Greek Life 101) and Greek Leaders Retreat: AIGC members participated in the Greek-Life orientation session for new members in the fall and at the Greek Leaders Retreat in the winter. We plan to continue our participation.

Respectfully submitted,
